The probation officer believes that the offender has violated the following condition(s) of supervision:

Violation Number    Nature of Noncompliance1            Mandatory Condition # 2: The defendant shall not commit another Federal, state, or local crime.

Supporting Evidence: Mr. Aills is considered in violation of his term of supervised release as he was arrested on April 8, 2010, by the Kittitas County Sheriff's Office, for taking a motor vehicle without permission and second degree malicious mischief. Per the incident report, an employee from Gemma Renewable Power, which was the defendant's employer, called 911 to report that Mr. Aills left the construction site with a company vehicle without permission. As the defendant drove away in the vehicle, he drove over a 3 to 4 foot embankment and equipment that was in the truck bounced out of the rear window and dented the vehicle.

Officers attempted to locate the defendant and made contact with Mr. Aills via his cellular telephone. The defendant returned to the site and stated the other employees were threatening him and saying he was going to be arrested for what was in his personal vehicle. The company truck was estimated to have over $2,000 in damage as the rear window and windshield were broken out and the front end and underside of the truck and top of the cab were damaged.
